

How technical education can support qualifications, competency and skills?

As an awarding organisation you can:

- keep up to date with current and future occupations from employers
- identify the latest apprenticeships, T Levels and Higher Technical Qualifications (HTQs)
- view over a thousand different occupations at different levels
- identify progression paths that utilise transferable knowledge and skills
- identify green careers to develop skills in green industries

